Albania-Bloc: The growing Soviet-Yugoslav rapprochement is apparently deepening the concern of Albanian leaders over the threat to their regime.

In Tirana's first authoritative reaction to President Brezhnev's recent visit to Yugoslavia, the party daily on 13 October denounced Khrushchev's policy as a "great betrayal" of Marxism-Leninism. The article warned that "the mass of Communists" and the "revisionists" cannot live together "for long" in the same party or movement. It hinted that Khrushchev's policies could lead to an open split in the world Communist movement by alluding to the "betrayal" of the Second Communist International which led to Lenin's formation of the Third International in 1919.

Tirana probably hopes to foster factionalism in the Communist world, particularly in the East European parties, four of which are to hold congresses between November and January. The Albanians would like to see Peiping move toward setting up a rival international Communist grouping.

EEC-US: (The six Common Market countries are considering joint action against US "buy American" regulations.)

(Italy, Belgium and France are pressing for urgent EEC consideration of this problem. They cite specific cases of unsuccessful bids on US Defense Department contracts. They claim these bids were as much as 40 percent below the successful bids of US firms. Belgium has also called for discussion of the matter in the OECD.)
